"Stop throwing the Constitution in my face. It's just a goddamned piece of paper"... 2005 President George W. Bush

Iceland, a nation the size of Virginia with 320,000 people, successfully staged a non violent revolution in March 2011; 93% of the citizens refused to repay the banks for causing the worldwide burst housing bubble in 2008. A new political party, "The Best Party" was formed after running a newspaper ad that stated. "The Best Party wishes to meet good people aged between 18 and 90." Their campaign video featured candidates singing Tina Turner's "Simply the Best".

"Iceland was ripe for change, having effectively gone bust thanks to the cronyism of a cluster of politicians and bankers who thought they could turn an island of fishermen with a population of 318,000 into a financial superpower."... The voters wanted change, and the Best Party caught the mood, capturing Reykjavik (Iceland's Capital city) with 34.7% of the vote. In his acceptance speech the new president stated: "No one has to be afraid of the Best Party. If it wasn't, it would be called the Worst Party or the Bad Party. We would never work with a party

Chilling comments from a friend on Holmes' Killing Spree

By: Jerry Mazza, IntrepidReport.com

A good friend in high places wrote to me after reading a recent article of mine, "James Homes family connected to DARPA and mind manipulation work."

"Jerry, it goes even deeper than that," he wrote for openers. "There is a nanotechnology artificial brain being developed that never blinks, never has a loss of attention span, surfing the net for porn or bathroom break. And never ogles the cute babe with big t and cute a." Sounded like an auspicious beginning to me.

Manchurian Candidate

Regarding the nanotechnology business, he said, "We were approached by a group that had been funded by DARPA. It was matching funds with a billionaire that has this weird project to study the human brain, download his onto a hard drive, as if his brain is more important than others. His 'reason' was IF he gets injured, they can re-upload it in his head.

Is There an Actual Terrorist Occupying the White House?

Was President Obama really in Afghanistan in 1982-83 as a Farsi interpreter and the lead agent for the CIA operation training Mujahedeen guerrillas to fight the Soviet occupation? There are more than a few who seem to think so. Following Obama's inauguration, an African-American pastor named Dr. James David Manning (who has been featured on Fox News) propelled the President's past into public view with a highly publicized mock treason-sedition trial held in Harlem during May of 2010. Manning presented testimony from a man named Mikael Kreznoski, an intelligence operative and arms dealer who claimed to have once worked in Kabul as some sort of KGB-CIA double agent. He claims that Obama was a CIA operative in Pakistan and Afghanistan and was actually used to aid the Taliban from 1981 to 1985. Another source claims that Obama was deployed in Afghanistan at various times between 1981 and 1983. Pastor Manning made the case that Obama didn't attend Columbia University in 1982-83, the years he claims to have been there. Manning's church is in Harlem, just blocks away from Columbia, where Manning originally found that Obama was not listed in the yearbook or the graduation roster, and that no one in the political science department (his supposed college major) can remember him. In fact, a number of Columbia professors question how a student with Obama's 2.5 grade point average (from his two years at Occidental College) would even qualify for admission. Interestingly, Breitbart.com, the neo-conservative news service of the late Andrew Breitbart, released a photograph of a document that shows Obama's name on a list of graduating students. Breitbart.com claims the photograph proves that Obama did, in fact, graduate in 1983 from the Ivy League school. Breitbart.com also seems to have accidentally backed up Manning's claim by commenting that the Columbia University record names Obama as a student within the Faculty of Arts and Sciences—not the less selective, "nontraditional" Columbia University School of General Studies (which only merged with the Faculty of Arts and Sciences in 1990).

Valerie Jarrett

Valerie Jarrett is a senior advisor to US president Barack Obama. She was born in Iran to American parents. Upon relocation to Chicago, her family became friendly with many communists and socialists in the area and indications are that she eventually married one, as her father-in-law, Vernon Jarrett was not only a Communist Party USA activist and but also an associate of Obama mentor Frank Marshall Davis. After graduating from the University of Michigan Law School, Valerie went to work for Chicago's first African-American mayor, Harold Washington, whose election many 1960's radicals worked on. After Washington's death in 1987, Jarrett stayed on under his successor, Richard Daley, as part of his corrupt political machine. In City Hall, Jarrett recruited Michelle Robinson (then engaged to Barack Obama) and quickly melded into the young couple's lives. CBS News once called Jarrett "the other side of Barack Obama's brain". Residents of a housing project in Chicago knew Jarrett simply as "slumlord", since she is the former manager of Grove Parc Plaza, a controversial low-income housing project located in Obama's former state senate district. According to The Boston Globe, the housing complex was considered "uninhabitable [due to] unfixed problems, such as collapsed roofs and fire damage". In 2006, federal inspectors graded the condition of the complex an eleven on a 100-point scale—a score so bad the buildings now face demolition. Jarrett is also linked to a series of other shady real estate scandals involving convicted felon and former Obama fundraiser Antoin "Tony" Rezko. Jarrett was also caught up in the Blagojevich scandal, as she was Obama's number one candidate for the subsequently disgraced politician's senate seat. Most of Blagojevich's corrupt negotiations with the Obama team centered on the possible Jarrett appointment. She has remained mum on the scandal. Like the Obamas, Jarrett is a South Sider with deep ties to the University of Chicago. As "the other side of Obama's brain" Jarrett is aptly suited for her Karl Rove-ian role in the White House.

like that." Ref. "The Free" "The Other Revolution of Iceland/ Al Junnah"

The 320,000,000 U.S. citizens (1000 times Iceland's citizens) should rise up against their oppressive, tyrannical, fascist government and "throw out all the bums and banksters" as did Iceland. Thomas Jefferson said: "Every generation needs a new revolution." It has been a little over ten generations since the last American Revolution. We're way overdue for the next American Revolution that will hopefully begin before we vote for either a rampaging elephant or braying jack-ass in November.

The following are the valid reasons for overthrowing the present U.S. government and replacing it with a constitutional republic:

1. The U.S. and Israel are guilty of planning and executing the "false flag" 9/11 murders of innocent civilians. See the July and August front page of "The Sovereign", "Explosive Evidence = 9/11 Justice" and "Muslims Didn't Do IT!", www.thesovnews.com
2. The Total Asset Recovery Program (TARP) stole 700 billion dollars from America's citizen ad gave it to the banksters who were responsible for the 2008 collapse of the bank created housing bubble. I propose a TARP. "The American Revolutionary Party!"
3. The unconstitutional "Patriot", Military Commission" and "National Defense Authorization Acts permit spying on our citizens, military trial without jury and imprisonment in foreign lands. The NDAA gives the president the power to murder American citizens who dare to resist this tyranny.

4. The Supreme Court of black robed bastards has decided that corporations are people and can donate to our political whores without any finance restrictions.
5. Amerika's Chief Village Idiot was prophetic when he said "The Constitution is only a Goddamned piece of paper." He failed to mention it has become toilet paper in the minds of the tyrants that rule this tyranny.

Iceland did it! Why can't we? It would be impossible to get 93% of my fat assed fellow citizens to put down their beer and turn off the TV "Remote". After all, isn't American Idol or Dancing With the Stars of greater importance than defending your freedom?

Another valid reason is our military police state. Iceland doesn't have a standing army The police state would make a non-violent revolution impossible without a coordinated civilian militia as a counter force.

A song written in the 1940's sums up the evils of capitalism.

"Money is the root of all evil

Money is the root of all evil

Won't contaminate myself with it!

Take it away! Take it away!

Take it away!"

The cartoon shows the "Decline and fall of the US and Israel Axis of evil." The sooner the revolution begins the sooner will be the beginning of peace when U.S. citizens can enjoy "The blessings of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness!" ☒

He is just a rich dilettante, nothing special about his knowledge base. But we saw VAST POTENTIAL for abuse in what they were doing so we separated from them." Wise decision my friend.

He continued, "For many years the DOD has tried a program called TRADOC, indoctrination training. Their goal was in part to teach American soldiers to TURN ON AMERICANS. Yes, open fire on Americans when told to do so. It failed, and is part of why we lost Vietnam. As a Christian nation (fundamentally), we are all taught that killing is wrong, unless in self-defense. You cannot teach 'defend against all enemies, domestic and foreign' and expect US soldiers to obey an order from an enemy of the American people."

He went on, "Sure Blackwater USA would. They are paid to violate every rule of decency, propriety and common sense. But in Vietnam we faced an enemy that did not care if they died. No amount of bullets, artillery or bombing would dissuade them. They just kept coming in spite of certain death. The Chinese are very much like that, too.

"One of my companies did a new type of UAV [Unmanned Aerial Vehicle] for DARPA and Army S&T [Science and Technology]. You cannot get anyone to even talk about it. It was an autonomous UAV, hunt and kill on its own with NO HUMAN INTERVENTION." I blinked and read on . . .
